THE DYING UMPIRE. An umpire of the league nines, Lay dying at the plate, And the gory rocks about him Told the story of his fate.

He had made a rank devision, And the crowd in franky deep, Had shuffled off his mortal colf By rocking him to sleep.

The catcher stood beside him.

As his life-blood ebbed away.

And swung his bat wi h vigor.

To keep the crowd at bay. The dying umpire bekeened.
And the Captain of the nine
Feat over him in sorrow.
For he feared another line.

But the umpire's word came feebly as the cri-tawas at hand. His dimmed eyes were soon to open In a brighter, fairer land.

Then he whispered low and sadly, "Cali the game, it's getting dark; Let it end on even innings, So the fast run do not mark.

'I have finished watching bases; I am numbered with the slai And the cry of rats' will never Echo in my cars again.

"Place my hand upon the home-plate; Le; me have my little mask; Frame a set or resolutions. Tols is all I have to ask."

The dying umpire faltered,
His tace toracd toward the sun,
One gasp, and all was over;
jt was his last home run.

They buried him at twilight In a hole they quickly made They but they quickly inade,
In a hole they quickly inade,
And no stone starks the lonely spot
Where the weary umpire's late.

"A recent and original application, and one which has, naturally enough, been made in America, is nothing less than an electric cradle, which is said to relieve the mother of much anxiety concerning the infant. For the distribution, operation and rental of these cradles, a company called the Electric Cradle Bornamy, having a capital of $1,000,000, has been organized. The cradle plays a double role. By means of magnets on either hand, it is attracted to one side and then to the other, having an easy, pleasant swing to it that is calculated to delight and soothe the most troublesome kid. Two fine pieces of copper wire, running parallel the one with the other, pierce the mattress beneath the child, two centimeters apart and joining the opposite poles of the battery.

Originally the circuit, thus formed is clessed; but it, by an event likely to happen at any moment oven to the most well behaved and presumably bermetically seal-at any moment even to the most well be haved and presumably hermetically seal-ed infant, the conductability of the materied infant, the conductability of the material composing the mattress is augmented, the circuit is instantly completed and an electric bell informs the entire household of what is happening in the cradle."

We are told that this invention originated in America. We can only say that we Don't snub a boy because he stutters.

Dom't snub a by because he stutters.

Demosthenes, the great orator of Greece overcame a harsh and stammering voice. Don't snub any one. Not alone because some day they may far outstrip you in the race of life, but because it is neither kind, nor right, nor Christian.

Lincoln and the Robel Soldlers.

While the President was at Frederick City he passed a house containing a large number of rebel wounded. "Stop," says he; "let us go in here." And, standing up in that hospital, Mr. Lincoln said aloud that if the wounded men had no objection he would be glad to take them by the hand. "The solemn obligation," said he, "which we owe to our country and posterity compels the prosecution of this war, but it is probable that many are our onemies through uncontrollable circumstances. I bear these no malice, and take them by the hand with sympathy and good feeling." Looking at the tail men stauding there, the embodiment in their ignorance and intensity of all the hatred they hore the Union, a strange dissonance, like bells that begin to tingle before they are chimed, went through the house. The City he passed a house containing a large are chimed, went through the house. The are chimed, weat tarough the house. The stlence continued until it looked as if there was no brotherhood. Suddenly one man walked up and took the President's hand. The others caught the infection and followed. It was the strangest recep-tion of the civil war.

Convenient, pleasant, and certain in CONVENTENT, pleasant, and certain in their results, are Actor's Dyspepsia Tablets. Recommended by physicians and endorsed by all who have used them. The best remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency and Constipation. Guaranteed, and sold at 256 by Logan & Co., and Charles Menkemeller. Indestructibility of Human

That human hair retains its characteris tics for long periods of time, and, indeed, is well-nigh isdestructible, is a fact of common observation. A remarkable instance of this is found in a wig which has recently been discovered in an Egyptian temple at Thebes, and is now deposited in the British Museum. It is supposed to have been part of the attire of an Egyptian priest, and from the circumstances of its discovery is regarded as being at least 3,400 years old.

Cholera Infantum

Cholera Infantum.

The greatest causes of this dread disease are excessive heat and improper food. Infants who are fed upon Mellin's Food will pass through the hot summer safely. A physician in one of our largest cities brought up his babe upon it, and wrote the following as his experience: "During these two years, while living in the most densely populated and most sickly part of the city, during intensely hot and intensely cold seasons, at no time has our child been seriously affected in comfort or health."

In the Bayle County (Ky.) Circuit Court the suit for libel of Captain S. M. Boone, of Somerset, against F. M. Green, editor of the Kentucky Register, published at Richmond, an agreed judgment for plaintiff for $1,000 and cests was entered. The collection of the judgment, excepting the costs, will not be enforced.

> Horsford's Acid Phosphate In General Debility

Dr. E. W. Hill, Glens Falls, N. Y., says: "I have used it in cases of nervous and general debility, and always with success. I consider it an excellent remedy for atonic dyspepsia, or any low state of the system."

Frank S. Humphrey was hanged at Milledgeville, Ga., for the murder and tape of two ladies—Carrie Raines and Eila Humphreys, his kinswomen—on March 4. He confessed his guilt to the sheriff last night, but made no statement on the scaffold.

Extraordinary but nevertheless true. We refer to the announcement of B. F. Johnson & Co., of Richmond, in which they propose to show working and ener-getic men how to make from $700 to $2,500 a year over and above expe
